

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY BELFAST

SCHOOL OF BIOLOGICAL SCIENCES

HAVE YOU SEEN MOSQUITOES in Northern Ireland?

Mosquitoes play an important role in the natural environment. However, some species are a public biting pest and can pose a health risk. The MosquitoNI project is examining the species present in Northern Ireland and the viruses they may carry. We need your support.

If you think you find a mosquito, please take a photo of it and send it to us using our online reporting form.

SCAN FOR MORE INFORMATION

